Use of Non-GAAP Financial Measures

KMP
The non-generally accepted accounting principles ("non-GAAP") financial measures of distributable cash flow before certain items (both in the aggregate and per unit), segment earnings before depreciation, depletion, amortization and amortization of excess cost of equity investments ("DD&A") and certain items, segment distributable cash flow before certain items, and earnings before interest, taxes and DD&A ("EBITDA") before certain items are included in this presentation. Our non-GAAP financial measures may be different from those used by others, and should not be considered as alternatives to GAAP measures such as net income or any other GAAP measure of liquidity or financial performance.

Distributable cash flow before certain items and EBITDA before certain items are significant metrics used by us and by external users of our financial statements, such as investors, research analysts, commercial banks and others, to compare basic cash flows generated by us to the cash distributions we expect to pay our unitholders on an ongoing basis. Management uses these metrics to evaluate our overall performance.

Distributable cash flow before certain items also allows management to simply calculate the coverage ratio of estimated ongoing cash flows to expected cash distributions. Distributable cash flow before certain items and EBITDA before certain items are also important non-GAAP financial measures for our unitholders because they serve as indicators of our success in providing a cash return on investment. These financial measures indicate to investors whether or not KMP typically is generating cash flow at a level that can sustain or support an increase in the quarterly distributions we are paying pursuant to the KMP partnership agreement. The partnership agreement requires us to distribute all available cash. Distributable cash flow before certain items, EBITDA before certain items and similar measures used by other publicly traded partnerships are also quantitative measures used in the investment community because the value of a unit of such an entity is generally determined by the unit’s yield (which in turn is based on the amount of cash distributions the entity pays to a unitholder). The economic substance behind our use of distributable cash flow before certain items and EBITDA before certain items is to measure and estimate the ability of our assets to generate cash flows sufficient to make distributions to our investors.

We define distributable cash flow before certain items to be limited partners' pretax income before certain items and DD&A, less cash taxes paid and sustaining capital expenditures for KMP, plus DD&A less sustaining capital expenditures for Rockies Express, Midcontinent Express, Fayetteville Express, KinderHawk (through second quarter 2011), Eagle Hawk, Red Cedar and Cypress, our equity method investees, less equity earnings plus cash distributions received for Express and Endeavor, additional equity investees. Distributable cash flow before certain items per unit is distributable cash flow before certain items divided by average outstanding units. Segment distributable cash flow before certain items is segment earnings before certain items and DD&A less sustaining capital expenditures. In certain instances to calculate segment distributable cash flow, we also add DD&A less sustaining capital expenditures for Rockies Express, Midcontinent Express, Fayetteville Express, KinderHawk (through second quarter 2011), Eagle Hawk, Red Cedar and Cypress, our equity method investees. We define EBITDA before certain items as pretax income before certain items, plus interest expense and DD&A, including the DD&A of REX, MEP, FEP, KinderHawk (through second quarter 2011), Eagle Hawk, Red Cedar and Cypress, our equity method investees.
"Certain items" are items that are required by GAAP to be reflected in net income, but typically either (1) do not have a cash impact, for example, goodwill impairments, allocated compensation for which we will never be responsible, and results from assets prior to our ownership that are required to be reflected in our results due to accounting rules regarding entities under common control, or (2) by their nature are separately identifiable from our normal business operations and in our view are likely to occur only sporadically, for example legal settlements, hurricane impacts and casualty losses. Management uses this measure and believes it is important to users of our financial statements because it believes the measure more effectively reflects our business’ ongoing cash generation capacity than a similar measure with the certain items included. For similar reasons, management uses segment earnings before DD&A and certain items and segment distributable cash flow before certain items in its analysis of segment performance and managing our business. We believe segment earnings before DD&A and certain items and segment distributable cash flow before certain items are significant performance metrics because they enable us and external users of our financial statements to better understand the ability of our segments to generate cash on an ongoing basis. We believe they are useful metrics to investors because they are measures that management believes are important and that our chief operating decision makers use for purposes of making decisions about allocating resources to our segments and assessing the segments’ respective performance.

We believe the GAAP measure most directly comparable to distributable cash flow before certain items and to EBITDA before certain items is net income. Segment earnings before DD&A is the GAAP measure most directly comparable to segment earnings before DD&A and certain items and segment distributable cash flow before certain items.

Our non-GAAP measures described above should not be considered as an alternative to GAAP net income, segment earnings before DD&A or any other GAAP measure. Distributable cash flow before certain items, segment earnings before DD&A and certain items, segment distributable cash flow before certain items and EBITDA before certain items are not financial measures in accordance with GAAP and have important limitations as analytical tools. You should not consider any of these non-GAAP measures in isolation or as a substitute for an analysis of our results as reported under GAAP. Because distributable cash flow before certain items and EBITDA before certain items exclude some but not all items that affect net income and because these measures are defined differently by different companies in our industry, our distributable cash flow before certain items and EBITDA before certain items may not be comparable to similarly titled measures of other companies. Segment earnings before DD&A and certain items and segment distributable cash flow have similar limitations. Management compensates for the limitations of these non-GAAP measures by reviewing our comparable GAAP measures, understanding the differences between the measures and taking this information into account in its analysis and its decision making processes.

Use of Non-GAAP Financial Measures – Cont’d

KMI
The non-generally accepted accounting principles, or non-GAAP, financial measure of cash available to pay dividends is presented in this news release. This non-GAAP financial measure should not be considered as an alternative to a GAAP measure such as net income or any other GAAP measure of liquidity or financial performance. Cash available to pay dividends is a significant metric used by us and by external users of our financial statements, such as investors, research analysts, commercial banks and others, to compare basic cash flows generated by us to the cash dividends we expect to pay our shareholders on an ongoing basis. Management uses this metric to evaluate our overall performance. Cash available to pay dividends is also an important non-GAAP financial measure for our shareholders because it serves as an indicator of our success in providing a cash return on investment. This financial measure indicates to investors whether or not we typically are generating cash flow at a level that can sustain or support an increase in the quarterly dividends we are paying. Our dividend policy provides that, subject to applicable law, we will pay quarterly cash dividends generally representing the cash we receive from our subsidiaries less any cash disbursements and reserves established by our board of directors. Cash available to pay dividends is also a quantitative measure used in the investment community because the value of a share of an entity like KMI that pays out all or a substantial proportion of its cash flow, is generally determined by the dividend yield (which in turn is based on the amount of cash dividends the corporation pays to its shareholders). The economic substance behind our use of cash available to pay dividends is to measure and estimate the ability of our assets to generate cash flows sufficient to pay dividends to our investors.

We believe the GAAP measure most directly comparable to cash available to pay dividends is income from continuing operations. A reconciliation of cash available to pay dividends to income from continuing operations is provided in this release. Our non-GAAP measure described above should not be considered as an alternative to GAAP net income and has important limitations as an analytical tool. Our computation of cash available to pay dividends may differ from similarly titled measures used by others. You should not consider this non-GAAP measure in isolation or as a substitute for an analysis of our results as reported under GAAP. Management compensates for the limitations of this non-GAAP measure by reviewing our comparable GAAP measures, understanding the differences between the measures and taking this information into account in its analysis and its decision making processes.

KMR 101 (a)

KMR is KMP
- KMR shares are pari passu with KMP units
- KMR dividend equal to KMP cash distribution, but paid in additional shares; effectively a dividend reinvestment program (b)
- Like KMP units, KMR shares are tax efficient — but with simplified tax reporting (no K-1s, UBTI)

KMR is a significant entity
- KMR market cap = $8.2 billion, ~30% of total KMP capitalization
- ~$20 million in daily liquidity

KMR has generated a 16.1% compound annual total return since ‘01 IPO, vs. 16.6% for KMP

Although the KMR trading discount to KMP has narrowed, at 9.2% it still leaves substantial room for improvement

EP transaction expected to lead to more KMR issuance
- Highlighting the security and further improving liquidity
- Potential for KMP to become self-funding through KMR dividend
- Possibility of KMR share buybacks if quarterly dividends exceed equity funding needs

Insiders prefer KMR
- Management has purchased KMR at a rate of about 2:1 vs. KMP, or almost 7:1 excluding one transaction (c)

(a) All figures through / as of 3/1/2012; see footnotes on slide 11 for explanation of total return calculations
(b) Calculation of share dividend: KMP quarterly cash distribution per unit divided by KMR 10-day average price prior to x-date = fractional share paid for every KMR share owned, e.g. $1.16 / $78.046 = 0.014863 share; example reflects actual KMR share dividend calculated for 4Q 2011 paid on 2/14/2012; refer to KMP 2011 10-K for more information
(c) Purchase of KMR shares and KMP units by directors and officers of KMR/KMP since the KMR IPO in 2001, as reported in SEC Form 4 filings; 7:1 ratio excludes one open market purchase of KMP units relating to an arrangement requiring cash distributions for payment of interest
Our Strategy: Stay the Course

Focus on stable fee-based assets that are core to North American energy infrastructure
  — Market leader in each of our business segments

Control costs
  — It’s the investors’ money, not management’s – treat it that way

Leverage asset footprint to seek attractive capital investment opportunities, both expansion and acquisition
  — KMP has completed $11.7 billion in acquisitions and $13.3 billion in greenfield / expansion projects since inception (a)

Maintaining a strong balance sheet is paramount
  — Enables continued access to capital markets to grow the business
  — KMP accessed capital markets for nearly $26 billion since inception (a,b)

Total Distributions (GP + LP) ($MM)

KMP Annual LP Distribution per Unit (b)

Net Debt to EBITDA (c,d)

Note: excludes any impact from the proposed acquisition of El Paso by KMI

(a) In 2010, total distributions paid were $2,250 million. These distributions would have been $2,420 million ($170 million greater) if all distributions paid in August 2010 had been cash from operations, rather than a portion being a distribution of cash from interim capital transactions; the GP receives only 2% of distributions of cash from interim capital transactions

(b) Annual LP declared distributions, rounded to 2 decimals where applicable

(c) Debt is net of cash and excluding fair value of interest rate swaps

(d) For KMI, net debt also excludes purchase accounting and Kinder Morgan G.P., Inc.’s preferred stock; distributions received from equity investees net of G&A and sustaining capital expenditures = EBITDA

- Canadian crude oil merchant tankage
- Increase in use of renewable fuels (a) leads to ethanol / biofuel expansion
- Acquisition of terminals from “mom and pop” owners and from majors

(a) RFS (U.S. Renewable Fuels Standard) requires an increase in use of renewable fuels, from 15 Bgal/yr in 2012 to 36 Bgal/yr in 2022
CO₂ Segment

2012 Growth Drivers:
- Higher overall oil / NGL prices
- CO₂ S&T price increases
- Relatively flat oil production

Longer-term Growth Drivers:
- Strong demand for CO₂
  - Expansion of CO₂ source fields and pipelines
    - Expect to execute several large, long-term CO₂ S&T contracts
  - Higher rates and better terms on new/renewed CO₂ S&T contracts
- Billions of barrels of domestic oil still in place to be recovered at SACROC, Yates and Katz
Kinder Morgan Canada Segment

2012:
- Extending new toll settlement on Trans Mountain pipeline (TMPL); results in relatively flat financial performance between 2011 and 2012

Longer-term Growth Drivers:
- Expand Oilsands export capacity to West Coast and Asia
  - TMPL is lowest-cost option with ability to do staged expansions, or one large expansion
  - Expansion open season recently concluded with positive results
    - Received strong binding commercial support from shippers
    - Proceeding with initial project design and planning
    - Expect final decision on project size by end of 1Q 2012
- Expanded dock capabilities (Vancouver)

KMI
Overview – 99% of Cash Comes from KMP

- Limited capital expenditures at KMI
- Stock ownership:
  - Public – 16%
  - Rich Kinder, other management and original stockholders – 39%
  - Sponsors – 45%
- In 2012:
  - KMI expects to receive $1.6 billion in distributions
  - $985 million budgeted cash available for dividends after paying cash taxes, cash interest and G&A

General Partner interest receives incentive distributions from KMP
KMI owns ~11% of total limited partner interests

Note: excludes any impact from the proposed acquisition of El Paso by KMI
(a) 2012 budget
(b) 20% equity interest; KMI is operator of Natural Gas Pipeline Company of America
(c) As of 12/31/2011; includes: (i) general partner interest, (ii) 21.7 million KMP units and (iii) 14.1 million KMR shares
Growth in KMP Distributions Leads to KMI Growth

An 8% increase in the annualized LP distribution per unit from $4.61 to $4.98 with a 16MM unit increase in KMP units outstanding results in an increase of 15%, or $205MM, in total distributions to KMI (a)

Note: excludes any impact from the proposed acquisition of El Paso by KMI
(a) 2012 budget
KMP Risks

- Regulatory
  - Pacific Products Pipeline FERC / CPUC cases
  - Periodic rate reviews
  - Unexpected policy changes

- Crude Oil Production Volumes

- Crude Oil Prices
  - 2012 budget assumes $93.75/Bbl realized price on unhedged barrels
  - 2012 sensitivity is ~$5.8 million DCF per $1/Bbl change in crude oil prices

- Economically Sensitive Businesses (e.g., steel terminals)

- Environmental

- Terrorism

- Interest Rates
  - ~50% floating rate debt
  - The full-year impact of a 100-bp increase in rates equates to an approximate $65 million increase in interest expense

Note: excludes any impact from the proposed acquisition of El Paso by KMI
KMI, KMP & KMR: Attractive Value Proposition

- Unparalleled asset footprint
- Established track record
- Industry leader in all business segments
- Experienced management team
- Supportive general partner
- Transparency to investors
- Attractive returns driven by combination of yield plus growth
El Paso Update
El Paso Transaction Timeline

- El Paso announced E&P sale
  - Definitive agreement to sell entire E&P business for $7.15 billion
  - Expect to close about the same time as close of El Paso acquisition

- Integration plan being developed – targeting $350 million of synergies

- Shareholder meetings on 3/2/2012 (KMI) and 3/6/2012 (EP)

- HSR review underway
  - Pre-merger notifications filed
  - 2nd request received
  - Providing additional information to FTC

- Expect Q2 2012 closing
Dividend and Distribution Growth Targets

KMI

Current targets excluding El Paso
- Declare budgeted 2012 dividends of $1.35 per share (12.5% growth)
- Targeted 10% long-term dividend growth rate

Targets including El Paso
- Estimate $1.45 per share dividend paid had El Paso transaction closed at the beginning of 2012
  - Since the transaction will not be in effect for the full year 2012, KMI’s actual dividend in 2012 will likely be less than $1.45 per share
  - Also have converted to declared basis from paid basis (for comparison $1.35/sh declared = $1.30/sh paid)
- Targeted 12.5% long-term dividend growth rate through 2015

KMP

Current targets excluding El Paso
- Declare budgeted 2012 LP distributions of $4.98 per unit (8.0% growth)
- Targeted 5% long-term distribution growth rate

Targets including El Paso
- Targeted 7% long-term distribution growth rate, driven by expected dropdowns resulting from the EP transaction
